

Rocky Mountain Lamb Fest has been chosen as the permanent name for the lamb and woolgrowers celebration which will be held annually in Wasatch County. Pictured is Marilyn Price, Daniel, who submitted the prize winning name, receiving her $50 prize from Mike Sullivan, president of the Heber Valley Chamber of Commerce. The first Rocky Mountain Lamb Fest will be July 9-11 in Heber City. It will be a community event with family activities, dog trials, entertainment, a dance, barbecued lamb, youth wool competition, historical highlights, and lamb and wool products will be displayed and sold. This year's coordinator is County Attorney Steve Hansen. Jean Henderson and Roy Broderick are the financial committee.
